Report Ford Accepts UAW Wage Plan

Incorporates Both Ford, Union Ideas

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. Thursday was reported to have accepted in principle the CIO United Auto Workers Union demand that industry continue part pay to employes when they are out of work.

That is the key point in the revolutionary guaranteed annual wage plan which the UAW is pressing on Ford and General Motors under a strike threat next week.

The union has announced it intends to insist on the year-around pay plan throughout the auto industry and other CIO unions are making the same demand in other major mass-production industries.

The Detroit News said it learned from a high union official that Ford had offered a 55 million dollar, three-year "job security" fund that would be "unprecedented in industry."

"It appears to represent some of the thinking of both Ford's previour "partnership in prosperity" offer and the union's guaranteed annual wage plan," the News said.

"It accepts the principle of providing for a Ford employe while he is out of work—the principle on which UAL President Walter P. Reuther insists."

As reported by the News, Ford offered to pay a percentage of weekly payroll toward a fund out of which laid-off workers would continue to receive jobless pay after their state unemployment compensation payments became exhausted.

Neither Ford nor the UAW would comment on the published report, pointing to their agreement to conduct negotiations in secret. The union was bargaining simultaneously with both Ford and General Motors.

Possible strikes faced Ford on Monday and GM on Tuesday but it was generally believed only one of the giant auto firms would be singled out for any strike action.

There were a number of scattered "wildcat" or unauthorized walkouts in Ford Co. plants

Asks Extra Legal Aid For Segregation Suits

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — More legal aid to oppose suits growing out of the Supreme Court's May 31 ban on segregation in the schools was requested in Alabama Thursday.

Meanwhile, a second Southern school board vowed to close its schools if forced to comply with the court decision and a judge in Virginia ruled that expenditure of a million dollar bond issue for school construction is illegal.

Alabama's Atty. Gen. John Patterson asked the Legislature for funds to hire four additional attorneys "primarily to handle the multiplicity of segregation suits."

The Supreme Court left it up to local courts to determine when it is "feasible" to abolish the traditional educational system of separate schools for whites and Negroes in the South.

Patterson told the Legislature that the "initial suits will be the most important, and we must be ready to handle them properly."

He added that if given the extra legal aid, "I feel sure we can fulfill our mission (of opposing integration)."

The governing board of Prince Edward County, Va., today reaffirmed its stand it would operate no public schools unless the races were kept separate.

The Virginia group's action followed a similar course set by the Summerton, S. C., Board of Education Wednesday.

The Prince Edward schools were part of the original case considered by the Supreme Court before its historic ruling of last year that segregation in the schools was illegal.

Board members voted last night to omit school operating costs from the budget. At today's session they did not discuss the matter further, bu Chairman Edward A. Carter read a formal statement which he concluded by saying the school budget without operating funds "is a matter of record."

Carter, in his prepared statement, also said, "I believe in equal but separate schools for the children of the South as interpreted by the Supreme Court of the United States in 1896. I believe in state's rights and I believe if we are left to work this question of schools out we will evolve a system that will be acceptable to both races and be to the best interest of all concerned."

Nannie Doss Gets Life For Poison Killings Of Four

TULSA, Okla. (AP — Grandma Nannie Doss, who admitted giving rat poison to four of her husbands, today was sentenced to life imprisonment. She was sentenced for the death of Samuel Doss, 58, of Tulsa after she pleaded guilty.

District Judge Elmer Adams who pronounced sentence had the choice of giving the giggling, gum-chewing 49-year-old woman death in the electric chair or life.

Doss died Oct. 10 and Mrs. Doss was arrested in November. Since then she has been committed to a state mental hospital for 90 days of observation, gone through a sanity hearing and entered the guilty plea.

She said she killed Doss becaue he was "peculiar" and refused to let her visit neighbors to watch television, made her retire early and denied her the use of an electric fan.

Estimate 60,000 Drug Addicts In U.S. Spend $10 Day

WASHINGTON (AP — Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger testified Thursday there are an estimated 60,000 drug addicts in the United States, spending an average of $10 a day on narcotics.

Most addicts steal to get money for drugs, he told Senate investigators, and the evil represents an enormous economic loss to the nation.

The commissioner said one out of 3,000 Americans is a drug addict. The goal, he said, is to get back to one in 10,000, a figure achieved between 1938 and 1948 when "addiction had reached an irreducible minimum."

The two outstanding steps that can be taken to control the dope trade, Anslinger said, are "to punish the trafficker and to compel the addict to take treatment."

He appeared before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee at the opening of an inquiry into the narcotics traffic looking toward stronger laws to cope with it.

Tom Reid, charman of the Canadian Senate's Narcotics Investigating Committee, sat at the subcommittee table briefly and noted it was the first time a Canadian senator had participated in a U. S. Senate hearing.

He told the subcommittee it has a long and difficult task ahead on the basis of his own knowledge of the drug traffic.

Protest Against Increased State Taxes Staged

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A protest against legislation proposing new and increased state and local taxes was staged today in front of the Illinois Capitol.

George E. Mahin, executive secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, told a crowd of about 300 persons that the taxpayer "has become the completely forgotten man" at the present legislative session.

"It is time for a demonstration that the people are fed up with taxes growing higher and higher year after year," Mahin declared.

After hearing brief talks by Mahin and a half dozen other participants, the rally broke up. Members then entered the Capitol to carry the protest individually to their respective state representatives and senators.

Rich Uranium Strike Goes Up For Grabs Today

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—California's richest uranium strike will go up for grabs Friday. Seventy-five sheriff's deputies will be on hand to preserve order.

Two companies had the strike all staked out. Then it was ruled that their claims were not valid because the land had been with drawn from mining entry for more than 30 years as a power preserve.

Now it's first come, first serve. Each of the companies—Kergon and Miracle—is expected to have well organized teams poised to restake the earlier claims. But if private prospectors or other companies can beat them to it, they'll be out of luck.

It's expected there will be many disputes that will have to be settled in court.

The scene is Kern River Canyon, a winding, steep-sloped gash in the towering Sierra. The area to be opened is near Miracle Springs, 40 miles east of this San Joaquin Valley community.

Indian Priest Here On Fund Raising Mission Is Slain

CHICAGO (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest on a fund-raising trip in behalf of a project in his native India was slain Thursday and police considered robbery a likely motive.

Slashed on his neck and shoulder by a sharp weapon, The Rev. John Chiramal, 40, staggered into the Little Sisters of the Poor residence at 1255 W. Harrison St., and collapsed about 5:55 a. m.

He died several hours later in Mother Cabrini Hospital.

Policeman Espy Knox said the dying clergyman mumbled "I was robbed." Asked where, he replied, "far away . . . 2 o'clock."

His blood stained 1955 automobile was parked in front of The Little Sisters of the Poor residence. It bore Pennsylvania license plates. The priest recently had lived at 1302 Ellsworth Ave., in Philadelphia.

When he reached the Little Sisters home Father Chiramal was wearing dungaree trousers and a plaid shirt. A bloodstained shirt and shorts were found in the car. The upholstery bore a slash indicating it had been made by the knife that wounded him.

Police found his clerical garb in a box in the luggage compartment of the automobile.

Father Chiramal, founder of Boys Town in India, had been in the United States for four years, traveling extensively to raise funds for his project. He came to Chicago to solicit funds from among prominent Indians here for the Rotary International convention.

Industrial Strife In Britain Closes Six Steel Plants

LONDON (AP)—Britain's railway strike Thursday night forced the shutdown of six Welsh steel plants. Peacemaking efforts by top trade union officials ended in a deadlock.

The steel works closing, caused by a shortage of coal and scrap iron and affecting 2,700 men, was the first major industrial stoppage because of the five-day-old strike of engineers and firemen.

It foreshadowed widespread unemployment and progressive paralysis of the industrial machine if the strike drags on into next week.

The Cabinet met for the first time since Prime Minister Eden led his Conservatives to an election victory over the Labor party a week ago. It studied effects of the railway strike on the nation's economy and considered a report on the 11-day-old walkout of stevedores at six ports which is impeding Britain's export drive.

A peacemaking committee of the powerful Trades Union Congress met with officials of the striking Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen in an effort to find a way to end the stoppage.

"No progress has been made," a TUC statement said. "The facts of the situation are being reported to the minister of labor."

Reward Children For Finding Body Of Crippled Girl

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—A $300 reward was raised Thursday for five children whose hide-and-seek game in an isolated woods disclosed the raped and strangled body of Jeannie Singleton, 8.

The reward for recovery of the crippled schoolgirl's body was posted by two AFL United Auto Workers locals in Kalamazoo and a Grand Rapids insurance official.

Meanwhile, Jeannie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Singleton, prepared to attend funeral services tomorrow afternoon for their daughter at the new Apostolic Church in Kalamazoo.

Singleton, grim after searching for Jeannie since her disappearance after school May 23, declared:

"The man who killed my little girl should be killed himself."

The body was found late Wednesday by children of the Howard E. and Howard J. Prolo families, who share a dwelling in the backwoods area of Allegan County near Doster, 15 miles north of Kalamazoo in southwestern Michigan.

DEMANDS $1.25 HOUR MINIMUM WAGE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Madden (D-Ind) demanded Thursday that the national minimum wage be $1.25 an hour, to help slow down what he called a flight of industry to "low wage" Southern states.

Madden, whose district includes the great industrial concentration at Gary, said the 90-cent minimum proposed by President Eisenhower isn't enough to keep up with the cost of living. The minimum is now 75 cents.

Ike's $3.5 Billion Foreign Aid Bill Passes Senate

—NEA Telephoto

ARRIVE AT HAWAII—Four American fliers released by red Chinese after two years in prison arrive at Hickam Field, Honolulu. Descending the plane ramp are (top to bottom) Lt. Lyle Cameron of Lincoln, Neb.; Lt. Roland Parks, Omaha, Neb.; Capt. Harold Fischer of Sea City, Ia., and Lt. Col. Edwin Heller of Wynnewood, Penna. The men will be reunited with their families, being flown to Hawaii by the Air Force.

First Time Since 1950 Request Was Not Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday night passed the entire 3½ billion dollar foreign aid program President Eisenhower has asked for the year starting July 1.

For the first time since 1950, the Senate failed to remove so much as one penny from the global aid authorization bill which Eisenhower on April 20 called "an indispensable part of a realistic and enlightened national policy . . ."

The bill now goes to the House.

Soundly defeated in the Senate were a score of amendments to chop millions of dollars from various parts of the measure. The money itself still has to be voted in a separate bill.

The measure authorizes $1,595,000,000 in direct military aid to friendly foreign nations, more than half for Asia, and the balance in a variety of economic assistance programs, including a 200 million dollar development fund for the "free arc" of Asia. Already authorized for the new program was an additional 122 million dollars in defends funds, making the total precisely the $3,530,000,000 Eisenhower recommended.

Sen. George (D-Ga), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, mustered a comfortable majority to beat back most amendments, including efforts to cut the over-all total, to compel the administration to handle a specified portion of economic aid as loans rather than grants, and to send the measure back to committee.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), author of a defeated amendment to reduce the total by one billion dollars, served notice he would fight for reductions in the forthcoming bill which will carry actual funds for the program.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee made only two or three changes in the measure as recommended by President Eisenhower—and all were upheld in the Senate. One stripped from the bill a section which would have empowered John B. Hollister to fire up to 50 per cent of top-grade employes in the Foreign Operations Administration. FOA expires June 30 and Hollister will head a new economic aid agency in the State Department starting July 1.

Sens. Knowland (R-Calif), the Republican leader, and Capehart (R-Ind), sought to reinstate a softer provision in the Senate, but that went down in a tie vote.

Committee Okays Eight Per Cent Postal Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP — Pay raises for the government's 500,000 postal workers came a step closer Thursday when the House Post Office Committee approved an average increase of 8 per cent.

The pay bill, a substitute for one President Eisenhower vetoed, will come before the House Tuesday and probably will be passed quickly. The Senate approved it 78-0 Wednesday. Congressional leaders are confident the President will sign it.

Eisenhower objected to the first bill because it did not include job reclassifications the administration wants and because it called for increases slightly higher than 8 per cent. These objections have been removed in the new legislation.

Release Of Fliers Gives Dag Hopes For Other Men

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said today the release of the four American fliers by Red China was encouraging. He said it increased his hopes that 11 others held by the Peiping Regime would be freed.

The secretary general confirmed that he had sent a new communication to Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai after the four jet pilots were freed, but declined to disclose the contents of his message.

Hammarskjold said he expected to get a full report from India's V. K. Krishna Menon next week on Menon's recent talks with Chou. Menon, chief foreign affairs adviser of Prime Minister Nehru, arrives here a week from today.

The secretary general said he was "a little surprised" at published reports that Menon had stated the four pilots were released at the request of India. He declined, however, to be drawn into the growing controversy over who should get the credit for the fliers' freedom.

Hammarskjold made a trip to Peiping last January on behalf of the fliers and has been engaged in diplomatic relations with Chou ever since then. U. N. officials privately claim his efforts were responsible for the freeing of the pilots.

Happy Fliers, Families Reunited In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — More than two years of anxious waiting ended Thursday for the families of four U. S. fliers, back from the Korean War after lonely months in Red China's prisons.

A big, slick, blue and white Air Force plane brought the families here from the mainland to a tearful, happy reunion.

Events had moved fast this week for the four — Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, Wynnewood, Pa.; Capt. Harold E. Fischer, Swea City, Iowa; Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., and Lt. Roland W. Parks, Omaha.

Released at Hong Kong Tuesday, they reached Honolulu only Wednesday, astounded to learn that their families were being flown to Hawaii. This was the great moment to which they had looked during the cold days they spent in Manchurian prison cells.

They stood impatiently in spanking new Air Force uniforms as the plane rolled up toward the ramp at Hickam Air Force Base. They all carried orchid leis, the floral necklaces of Hawaii.

They fidgeted and craned their necks as the plane fulled up. They looked strained and taut under their joshing good humor.

Heller embraced his wife, Judith, first off the plane. He met her half way up the steps. They sobbed happily.

Fischer also raced up the steps and hugged his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Fischer Sr. Father and son pounded each other on the back. Their eyes were red as they came down the steps.

Cameron was even more impetuous. He ran up the steps and grabbed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland G. Cameron. He pounded his brother, Robert, 21, about the ribs.

Parks rushed up to embrace his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G.

Propose Group To Investigate Security Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new bipartisan commission to investigate the government's security program from top to bottom was proposed unanimously Thursday by a Senate subcommittee.

The action was hailed by former Sen. Harry Cain of Washington, a leading critic of the present government employe security program, as "a tremendous step in the direction of preserving freedom in this country."

Cain hit out anew at the present setup in testimony before a Senate Civil Service subcommittee. He blasted the attorney general's subversive organization list as "a warped and wormy measuring rod," and declared:

"The question 'Am I a security risk?'—asked anxiously of themselves by some millions of citizens on the basis, of present or past membership in listed organizations—may apply to some senators and congressmen as well."

Cain, now a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, said government witnesses have listed 10 or 12 members of Congress, whom he did not name, among the original sponsors of the Civil Rights Congress. The organization now is classed as subversive by the Justice Department, which says the Communists have taken control of it.

Man Confesses Killing Ruth Muir 20 Years Ago

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Wilbert Felix Friend, 44, Thursday confessed he was the moonlight killer of YWCA secretary Ruth Muir 20 years ago.

Friend, unemployed laborer, was arraigned in Municipal Court on a murder complaint issued by Dist. Atty. Don Keller.

He declared: "I plead guilty." He was told no plea could be accepted at an arraignment. A preliminary hearing was set for June 23.

Keller said he was convinced it was "a proper case"—Friend was sane and legally competent to repeat his confession in court.

Miss Muir, 48, daughter of a retired San Antonio, Tex. banker, Joseph Muir, was dragged into a gully from an ocean front bench at La Jolla, where she had gone to watch the moonlight on the sea. She was attacked sexually and bludgeoned to death.

Parents Of Airman Believed Dead Return Purple Heart

LEMONT FURNACE, Pa. (AP)—The distraught parents of an American airman presumed dead in Korea have sent his Purple Heart award back to the White House. They called it an empty honor.

Ottley R. Coulter and his wife, Ethel, believe their son, 1st Lt. John R. Coulter, is a Communist prisoner. They wrote President Eisenhower:

"We believe that our son and his Communist-held comrades deserve more than medals. We believe they deserve the same loyalty from the government that they gave the government."

The White House had no comment on the letter. It was turned over to the Defense Department for an answer.

Coulter said his last definite information was that his son had been a prisoner in North Korea. The Air Force confirmed today that the boy had been on a prisoner of war list.

However, Lt. Coulter was presumed dead Jan. 31, 1954. Exhaustive investigation failed to turn up any information about his fate after he disappeared behind enemy lines.

The father's letter, which his wife also signed, read in part:

"We do not want this medal under the present circumstances. It does not honor our son or its donor. The original purpose of the Purple Heart Medal Award was good, but awarded to parents while their sons are still held prisoner is not in accordance with the original purpose of the medal."

The Purple Heart is awarded to servicemen wounded in action or to next of kin of persons killed in action.

In a reference to former President Harry S. Truman, Coulter continued:

"This medal does not prevent us from realizing that an American president forbade our son from defending himself against attack from the Red sanctuary across the Yalu; that an American president sent our son out to fight under conditions that were unnecessary and more favorable to the Reds than to the previous honorable record of our great United States."

Researchers Find Physical Difference In Cigarette Smokers, Non-Smokers Lungs

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Discovery of an apparent physical difference in the lungs of cigarette smokers compared with nonsmokers was reported Thursday night.

The difference is more thickening of certain cells in the mucus lining of the lung air tubes in smokers, although some also occurs in nonsmokers.

Some authorities consider this thickening pre-cancerous, leading to cancer if it continues long enough, while others do not.

The cell thickening was detected in microscopic studies of lungs of 41 humans by Drs. Oscar Auerbach, Thomas G. Petrick, Arthur Purdy Stout, Arnold L. Statsinger, Gerald E. Muehsam, Jerome B. Forman and J. Brewster Gere in research at the Veterans Administration Hospital, East Orange, N. J. They gave their findings at a symposium before the American College of Chest Physicians.

More studies and more cases are needed before this could be called a link between smoking and lung cancer, said Dr. Auerbach, a pathologist specializing in chest diseases. Forth-one is a small number. It included eight nonsmokers, the rest had been light to heavy smokers.

But it is apparently the first report of a physical difference in the lungs of smokers as against nonsmokers.

The thickening was found in basal cells, those which form the under layer of the lining of the windpipe (trachea) and air tubes (bronchi) which distribute air through the lungs.

These basal cells are the ones which divide and grow if there is injury or irritation to the tubes, Dr. Auerbach said. They form new layers or rows.

In nonsmokers, the pathologists usually found only three to five layers of basal cells, a very slight amount of thickening. In smokers, some had seven layers, some up to 18 or 20.

The thickening was found in many more places along the tubes of smokers than nonsmokers. The tubes were first cut into sections, with up to 200 sections being made from one person's tubes.

Thickening was found in 18 per cent of the sections from light to moderate smokers, and 40 per cent of those from heavy smokers. It was also found in 42.7 per cent of sections of the tubes of 14 persons who had actual cancer of the lung.

Only the air tubes were studied, since lung cancer begins in them.

Fourteen were light to moderate smokers, the light smoker being defined as up to a pack a day, the moderate up to two packs. Five were heavy smokers, two packs plus. Another 14 who had cancers were all moderate to heavy smokers.

Dr. Auerbach, a nonsmoker, said it might be learned within three to five years whether smoking produced the thickening and set the stage for cancer.

The research, done mostly on the physicians' own time, was supported by the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Stout, professor emeritus of surgical pathology at Columbia's College of Physicians and Surgeons, and Dr. Statsinger also do not smoke. Drs. Petrick, Muehsam and Forman are heavy smokers, said Dr. Auerbach, while Dr. Gere either smokes or has.

Dr Auerbach said that as the research progressed, the smoker-members of the team had "lost their skepticism about the findings, but not their smoking habit."

RUSSIAN BOOBY TRAPS

There are enough differences in the current Russian plan for general disarmament and German unity to make it worth a careful look. But there is also considerable evidence that this new version is loaded with the usual Communist booby traps.

This time the Russians abandon their standard call for a one-third cut in conventional arms, which would leave their huge forces still heavily dominant. They accept the Western idea of a flat numerical ceiling which would equate their forces with those of the United States. However, they would include Red China in the same equation.

The Soviets also accept step-by-step disarmament, instead of demanding immediate destruction of all nuclear weapons, as they formerly did. They would not ask that a ban on atomic arms take effect until 75 per cent of the cut in regular armaments had been completed.

Nevertheless, as Western diplomats were quick to point out, the Russian plan is still crucially weak in the vital matter of enforcing disarmament. The heart of enforcement must be a rigid inspection system.

Review of the Soviet proposals shows that they devote some seven paragraphs to the rights and powers of a suggested enforcement agency without ever saying plainly that inspectors should be allowed to roam everywhere to assure that forbidden weapons are not being made or stored.

Until the Russians are ready to face up to real inspection, any other concessions, however interesting, must be classed as secondary.

The Kremlin's suggestions on Germany are still more dubious. They propose immediate withdrawal of all occupation forces except skeleton units which would stay until unification. They also ask that all foreign military bases now held in Europe be evacuated. This would mean American withdrawal from all forward air and other bases in France and other Western countries, and Russian departure from positions held in the satellite nations.

This sounds like quite a concession. But it cannot be forgotten that such withdrawals would take American forces out of Europe and back across 3000 miles of ocean, while Russia's armies still would be poised close to Europe's heart and the satellites would remain under firm Kremlin political control.

The Russians, of course, again propose that a unified Germany be neutral, and this time they suggest that the unification matter be handled by the U.N.—figuring obviously that sentiment for neutrality will be greater there than among the Big Four foreign ministers.

But they want Big Four control of German police forces through the whole country. This is one of their cleverest booby traps. Up to now Russia has been denied any shred of control in West Germany. Big Four control would get them in the door, and open the way to subversive and obstructive tactics aimed at pulling "neutral" Germany into the Russian orbit.

The disarmament plan very shrewdly states, too, that armaments should be frozen as of Dec. 31, 1954, which would prevent the scheduled rearmament of West Germany in the Allied cause.

There are still other booby traps, but we have looked at enough to gauge the plan. These seem like the proposals of men who have shifted tactics to put in powerful new lures, but still cling to their fixed goal of world conquest.

AID TO PAKISTAN

Pakistan, one of our real friends abroad, needs much economic development. America understands this and is trying to help. But stimulating economic progress should not be just a matter for government.

Hence it's good to hear that Pan American World Airways, through a plan joined in by our Foreign Operations Administration, will assist Pakistan's major airline in the training of its personnel in the most modern flying techniques. Gains in aviation will surely aid Pakistan in wider industrial growth.

Check-Off List for Easing Child's Acceptance of Baby

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

We can ease a child's acceptance of a new baby by:

. . . announcing its coming quietly, as though we regarded our news, not as startling, but as natural and to be expected.

. . . avoiding introductory questions like, "Wouldn't you like to have a little brother or sister?"—and all pretense of offering Billy a choice he doesn't have.

. . . dislodging him from his crib or bedroom in advance of the baby's need for them so that he doesn't resent it for their loss.

. . . refusing to say, "I hope it will be a girl this time and suggesting that we had a preference before Billy was born, too.

. . . resisting the temptation to insist on the "fun" he will enjoy with the newcomer. Infants sleep, eat, digest and cry—but cannot provide older brothers or sisters with their ideas of "fun."

Controlling our family's over-enthusiasm for the unborn child with its hint that nobody's been too satisfied with the born one.

. . . avoiding promises like, "This will be your baby as well as mine"—and the inevitable, resentful discovery that our infant is not his brother's or sister's possession at all but our own demanding responsibility.

. . . recognizing that our news creates the natural occasion for questions on the processes of birth.

. . . remembering that explaining our pregnancy makes females appear most important, over-privileged creatures—and that small sons will appreciate hearing that their sex played a part in our glorified state.

Forgetting to promise small daughters that they can "have a baby, too," knowing that no doll ever made can possibly duplicate the real baby we bring home from the hospital.

. . . promising to kiss Billy goodbye before we leave—and keeping our word whether he's asleep or awake.

. . . arranging if possible for a private reunion so that we can reappear in our home, not as the strange mother of another stranger, but in the familiar likeness of Billy's memory of us.

. . . making use of stories of his babyhood to remind him that the newcomer isn't the only person we have nursed, burped, oiled and changed diapers for.

. . . never forgetting that the more relaxed is our own acceptance of the baby, the less we will have to press for Billy's acceptance of it.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It will be years before racial segregation in public schools is wiped out everywhere in this country—in spite of the Supreme Court's order to end it—and then probably only after a lot of court fights.

The rate at which segregation disappears depends upon the cooperation or defiance of individual states with the high court's decision.

Officials in five places—the District of Columbia, Virginia, Delaware, South Carolina and Kansas—were told by the court they would have to begin promptly to work out a plan for abolishing segregated schools.

But authorities in all other segregated states can try any dodge they can think of to get around the court's ruling.

On May 17, 1954, the court ruled on an appeal by Negroes who protested against segregation in the District and the four states mentioned above. The court said public school segregation is unconstitutional and had to stop. But it did not say how and when.

The court then asked all the states with segregation to chew over the problem and appear later with suggestions for wiping out their double school systems.

In April the nine justices listened to attorneys for the Negroes, attorneys for the segregated states, and U.S. Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff, who represented the Justice Department.

The Negroes asked for an end to all segregation no later than September 1956. Generally, the states asked the court not to fix a deadline. Rather, they said, the court should let federal district judges work out the problem with officials in their states and local communities.

Sobeloff also suggested federal district judges be allowed to handle desegregation with the authorities within their jurisdiction. The idea behind this was that different communities have different problems.

The Supreme Court gave its decision Tuesday. It did not say precisely how or when segregation shall be ended.

The court, addressing itself to the Supreme Court of Delaware and the district judges whose jurisdiction covered the other four original defendants, told them to require the authorities in their area to make a "prompt and reasonable" start toward ending segregation. It said a reasonable time could be allowed for carrying out the desegregation plans.

The federal judges outside those five areas were not told by the Supreme Court to require any action by the authorities in their territory. One of the best informed lawyers in the government said this could happen:

The judges don't have to do anything unless Negroes appeal to them to carry out the Supreme Court's order against segregation. Once that starts, if the local authorities protest, a court fight begins.

How many such fights are possible? No one can say. In the end the states will lose because the court Tuesday said that any state or local laws which conflict with its ruling are unconstitutional.

But still the court fights are not only possible but may be forced on the Negroes by states which do nothing to end segregation. The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said Tuesday night it is prepared to fight whole batches of these cases if necessary. Georgia indicated that's how the NAACP may have to fight.

This Speech Difficulty Shouldn't Cause Worry

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

What seems to me too much worry over a child is reflected in a letter received from Mrs. G.

She says, "My little 3½-year-old boy talks a lot but quite a few of his words are not clearly pronounced. He drops his "s" saying "un" for sun "upper" for supper and the like. Some of my friends find it hard to understand what he says. Do you think he may be tongue-tied, and if so will you discuss it?"

It seems to me that most, if not all, very small children have difficulty in learning to pronounce some words in our difficult language. The probabilities are that this little boy will pronounce more clearly as time goes on and the fact that your friends have difficulty in understanding him is not too important at the moment and may be just as well at times.

The Term "Tongue-Tied" has pretty well gone out of use since there is rarely, if ever, any real physical abnormality of the tongue responsible for speech difficulties or problems of pronunciation. It is true that many youngsters do have speech difficulties—of which stuttering is the most important—but these appear to be much more likely to be the result of emotional disorder than of any physical defect in the organs of speech.

When serious speech difficulties do occur much can usually be done if they are properly handled. Many universities or medical schools maintain speech centers where excellent advice can be obtained. The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 11 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, has also taken an interest in the subject and distributes a pamphlet particularly designed for the parents of stutterers.

Since Stuttering is the most important speech defect a special word should be said about this condition. While its exact cause is not known it seems likely that some children are born predisposed and are said to be of the "stutterer-type." This does not mean that stuttering is inherited but rather that the susceptibility to his speech difficulty is inborn.

It is also interesting that nearly five times as many boys stutter as girls. Apparently, many who have the predisposition to stutter do not actually do so unless some shock or accident upsets their nervous systems.

There Are Two Stages in the development of stuttering. The chances of stopping the trouble are much greater in the first stage than before enxiety and feelings of inferiority have developed. A stuttering child should never be punished with a hope of breaking him of the habit. The youngster can't help it.

The treatment at this stage is principally to slow down the pace of living and remove as much excitement and tension as possible. Family quarrels, games or amusements which are too exciting, and similar stimulations should be avoided.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
(Last article on movie violence)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Violence in Hollywood films has been hit from all sides. Here's one man who defends it.

He's Cornel Wilde, actor, producer and now a director. He starred in and helped produce "The Big Combo," one of the films which brought forth a wave of protest about too rugged action in movies. Recently he directed himself in "Storm Fear." You can gather from the title that it is not a gentle subject.

"You can't get away from violence in drama," he said. "When you have two people in conflict, it is bound to result in violence, either in words or action. If you do not have conflict, you do not have drama.

"There is nothing new about violence in the theater. 'Oedipus Rex' is certainly a violent play, and it has withstood the test of centuries.

"Shakespeare is replete with violence. Look at 'Hamlet.' The stage is littered with corpses at the end of the play.

"When Orson Welles did 'King Lear' on TV, they showed an eye gouging. I was shocked by it, but not repelled. It was good theater."

Wilde admitted that the decriers of Hollywood had a case—"when violence is presented for violence's sake. If a brutal scene is shown for no reason except to shock, then it is bad. I think 'The Wild One' was an example of meaningless violence."

"The Big Combo" was criticized in England and elsewhere because of a scene in which gangster Richard Conte toured Wilde. Conte put a hearing aid in the hero's ear and played a radio loudly. Wilde defended the scene as being subtler and less brutal than the senseless beatings in many films.

The answer to the problem is you, the movie goer. If you get a thrill from brutality on the screen, it will continue. If you think the studioes have gone overboard on violence, they will tone it down.

The ruler of Hollywood is still the ticket buyer.

NEW YORK (AP) — The world is so full of a number of things, why is it a guy can be over 40 and still never in his life have —

Met a fellow who has been struck by lightning?

Eaten a pomegrante?

Encountered a color blind woman?

Hit the jackpot in a slot machine, or won the daily double at a racetrack?

Learned to wear a raincoat on the days it rains, and to leave it home on days when it doesn't rain?

Found a can opener anywhere in the world that will open two cans in a row?

Had a cigarette lighter that will light one cigar in a row without running out of fuel?

Owned a fountain pen that will write above water?

Located a laundry that will sew back on the buttons it rips off?

Be lucky enough to walk behind a millionaire with holes in his pocket?

Met a politician who didn't think he was more honest than the average voter?

Read the symptons of a strange disease without feeling immediately those were the very things he'd noticed in himself lately?

Patted the head of a cat and felt it really liked him?

Spent a day at the beach without getting sunburned?

Found a pearl in an oyster?

Opened an envelope and had an unexpected bill fall out? (after 40 you expect every envelope to have a bill in it.)

Met a wife who approved of every member of her husband's family?

Known a man who, if really pressed, wouldn't concede he was a better christian than his neighbor?

Reached the end of a month without borrowing lunch money from his wife?

Known a year in which he didn't brood over whether he wasn't missing something in existence he should be getting?

If you are over 40, and all (or most) of these questions apply to you, well — don't worry. You're normal. You've just led an ordinary life in an extraordinary world.

Airlines Climbing Dizzily; CAB'S Power Zooms, Too

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman Ross Rizley calls commercial aviation the fastest growing industry in the United States.

Speaking of himself in the third person, Chairman Rizley declaims impressively:

"The Chairman trembles in his boots at the power and responsibility of his new position. Civil Aeronautics Board holds the power of life or death over every airline."

Faced now with the problem of a rapidly expanding industry, decisions which CAB must make in the near future will determine who gets a share of this big business.

Traffic figures on the first three months of 1955 indicate a 13 per cent increase in passenger-miles flown over the same period last year. April and May could be even better.

This increase shows a 13 per cent rise for the 13 U.S. domestic trunk lines.

The rise for the 14 local feeder lines and the three helicopter services in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles is 18 per cent.

For the 14 international and 11 territorial routes the rise averages 10 per cent.

From The Money Angle, the receipts are up 22 per cent for the trunk lines, 33 per cent for the local feeder lines and 19 per cent on international routes.

The nine nonmail carriers, certificated by CAB for freight and charter operations, do not share in this boom business. Cargo carriers have been losing money on scheduled operations.

CAB has made a decision on a case which may alter this situation. It is centered on the existing shortage of equipment to carry the growing traffic.

The Board has been getting many more requests than usual for charter flights, particularly for transatlantic tours. The price range, incidentally, is $16,500 for a Constellation New York to London up to $20,000 for a DC-6, New York to Paris.

Under previous rules, certificated carriers had to sublease equipment from nonscheduled operators for these charter flights. The new regulation lets down the bars. Nonsked or cargo carriers now can get into this business.

Last year U.S. airlines had 1160 planes in domestic service and 434 on international routes. The airlines have 160 more planes on order for delivery this year and next. But the pickup in business has been so great it may not be enough.

The New Four-Engine Planes cost around two million dollars apiece and take two-and-a-half years to build. This compares with 100 thousand dollars for a two-engined DC-3 15 years ago. But the four-engined planes of today are cheaper to operate on a passenger-mile or ton-mile basis.

Operating revenues of the U.S. airlines have risen from 460 million dollars with a net loss of 10 million dollars in 1946 to revenues of one billion 400 million dollars and profits of 69 million dollars in 1954.

From the taxpayers' standpoint, the interesting part is that these figures offer some hope for a reduction in subsidies.

In 1954 government subsidies were 73 million dollars. This year they are expected to run about 65 million dollars. For the next fiscal year beginning July 1 they have been budgeted at 62 million dollars.

Subsidies are divided four million dollars for the domestic trunk lines, 25 million dollars for the local feeder lines, three million dollars for the helicopters and 30 million dollars for international routes.

Nine Of The Domestic trunk lines, carrying 95 per cent of the traffic, are now subsidy-free.

The four receiving subsidies are Braniff, Colonial, Continental and Northeast.

Trans-World Airlines has operated its foreign service without subsidy since 1953.

Nonskeds get no subsidy.

A number of reasons are given for the increase in commercial aviation business. The winter weather was exceptionally good. Service was dependable.

Airlines have had a record safety year. Flying was almost as safe as railroading and 30 times safer than automobiles. Air fatilities were only 0.09 per hundred million passenger miles. There were no fatalities on U. S. international lines.

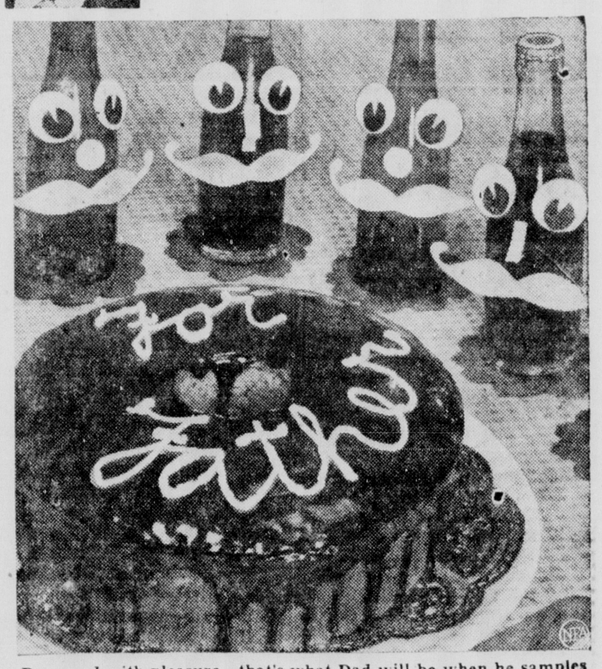

Air fares are less than three per cent higher than in 1941. Coach fares are four-and-a-quarter cents a mile, first class six cents, international five-and-a-half to seven. The pay-later plan has boosted tourist traffic.

Thirty-five per cent of the traffic is now coach service, introduced in 1948. In 10 years it may be 75 per cent.

American Menu

Dad Will Be Pop-Eyed Over Luscious Cola Cake

Pop-eyed with pleasure—that's what Dad will be when he samples this light, delicately textured cola-flavored cake.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Maybe Dad is struggling to keep his waistline down. Here's a wonderful yellow cake made without any shortening. A little nine-year-old friend of ours, Orlanda Brugnola, who lives near Worcester, N. Y., says help for her Dad on June 9th, Father's Day. Cola, used as liquid, helps to give volume, lightness of texture and delicate flavor.

Father's Day Cake

Five eggs, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 1/3 cups sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 2/3 cup bottled cola, 1¼ cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder.

Turn on oven at 325 degrees F. Separate whites and yolks of eggs into your two largest mixing bowls. Add salt to whites, beat at high speed until foamy. Add cream of tartar, continue beating at high speed for about 3 minutes or until stiff.

To the egg yolks, add lemon juice, vanilla and half the cola. Beat at high speed for 2 minutes, add remaining cola and beat 2 minutes longer. Sift together the sifted cake flour and baking powder three times. Fold in lightly by hand, alternating with beaten egg yolks, into beaten egg whites. A wire whisk is best for this. Fold in air as you work.

Pour batter into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 325 degrees F. for 50 minutes. Cake is done when top is firm at light touch of the finger. Remove from oven and turn pan upside down at once. Leave until cake is completely cold, about 1½ hours. Loosen sides with spatula and slide cake out. Frost top with Cola-Chocolate Icing, letting it drip invitingly down the sides.

Cola - Chocolate Icing: Makes enough for top of 10-inch cake. Three tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup bottled cola, ½ cup sugar, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Blend cornstarch with ¼ cup of the cola; set aside. Put sugar, chocolate, salt and remaining cola in saucepan. Cook, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Boil gently for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in dissolved cornstarch and continue to cook and stir until thickened, about 3 to 4 minutes. Add vanilla and beat smooth.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Shrimp cocktail, broiled sirloin steak, French fried potatoes, corn on cob, club rolls, butter or margarine, lettuce and tomato salad, Thousand Island dressing, Father's Day Cola cake, coffee, tea, milk.

Silver Is Selling At Highest Price In 35 Years

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Silver is selling today at the highest price in 35 years.

Industry is paying as much as Uncle Sam for the metal for the first time in many years. The civilian price advanced here this week to 90½ cents an ounce. By law the U. S. Treasury pays 90.41 cents for silver newly mined in the United States.

Industrial demand for silver here is reported running 15 to 20 per cent higher than a year ago. Mexico, the chief supplier of silver for industry and the arts in this country, has been virtually withdrawn from this market for some time.

Rising demand and dropping supply have hiked the price. Mexico's silver has been going to West Germany and to Saudi Arabia, which wants it for coinage. Silver mined in this country has been going to the U. S. mint because for more than two years the commercial price was 85¼ cents and Uncle Sam was paying almost 4¼ cents an ounce more.

Under the law, the U. S. Treasury may not sell its silver for less than 90.91 cents an ounce, or a profit of one half cent for the Treasury. Some in the trade here think the commercial price, which Handy & Harman, refiners and fabricators, this week boosted to 90½ cents, may rise still higher and could approach the Treasury's selling price.

Actually, consumers are paying 90¾ cents now — the extra one fourth cent being the customary handling and other charges. Therefore, any one with newly mined American silver here in the east can get more for it on the commercial market. But in the West, where two-thirds of our silver is produced, freight differentials make shipment to the nearby mint more attractive from a price standpoint than shipment to the commercial market in the East.

U. S. consumption of silver in the arts and industries was 105 million ounces in booming 1953. It dropped to 85 million ounces in 1954, when silver-using industries were having a slowdown. This year silver use has risen even faster than the industry hoped for a few months ago.

Handy & Harman reports that this year the use of silver in industry tops its use in silverware, jewelry or the arts.

The electronic industry uses considerable amounts of silver in television and radio sets, radar equipment, air condition, telephones and the like. Silver also goes into autos, farm tractors, lawn mowers, bicycles, washing machines, dishwashers, sewing machines, bicycles and guns.

Trucks Cops 5th As White Sox Nip Red Sox 4-2

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox killed a Boston seventh-inning threat with a bases-loaded double play to defeat the Red Sox, 4-2 Thursday and give Virgil (Fire) Tducks his fifth triumph with good help from reliefer Sandy Consuegra.

Consuegra was in charge as Boston's seventh inning threat ended when right fielder Jim Rivera snatched Harry Agganis' drive and doubled Ted Williams off first base.

Williams, who went hitless against the White Sox Wednesday, also was blanked Thursday in three official trips although he walked twice and was safe on an error in the seventh.

The loser was Mel Parnell, making his first start of the season. The clever southpaw has been inactive since March 31 when he injured his right knee in spring training. Boston also used Tom Hurd and George Susce.

Parnell was touched for a pair of Chicago runs in the second inning on Sherm Lollar's double, Chico Carrasquel's walk and singles by Walt Dropo and Trucks.

The White Sox made it 3-0 in the third on Bib Nieman's double and Rivera's single. The other Chicago run came on George Kell's homer in the seventh.

Indians Jar Orioles 9-3 Behind Score

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rookie Herb Score posted his sixth victory for the Cleveland Indians Thursday, a six-hit, 9-3 conquest of the Baltimore Orioles. He fanned 10 in the first four innings, but the Orioles spoiled his shutout bid with three runs in the eighth. The Tribe got six unearned runs in the second inning—four of them on Dave Pope's homer.

He succeeds Tom Deckard, coach and director since Jan. 1, 1948, who resigned to enter private business. Morris will take over July 1.

HOME TOWN TO PAY RESPECTS TO VUKOVICH

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — His home town will pay its last respects Saturday to Billy Vukovich, 36, two-time Indianapolis Speedway race winner who was killed Memorial Day trying for his third straight.

Last rites will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the Free Evangelical Lutheran Church with interment in Belmont Memorial Park.

Mueller, Mays Homer; Giants Trip Reds 6-3

NEW YORK (AP)—Home runs by Don Mueller and Willie Mays, his 14th, helped the New York Giants top Cincinnati Thursday 6-3 with Johnny Antonelli throwing a six-hitter. The Redlegs' Ted Kluszewski blasted his 15th home run in the sixth inning.

The Giants knocked out loser Jackie Collum in the third inning when they scored three runs on a combination of Dave Williams' double, a single by Mueller and successive doubles by Mays and Sid Gordon. Mueller hit his home run in the first inning and the Giants picked up another in the second on a walk to Gordon, an infield out and Ray Katt's single.

Cincinnati got to Antonelli for a run in the second on singles by Kluszewski, Smoky Burgess and Bobby Adams. A walk to Gus Bell and Kluszewski's double added another in the third.

It was Antonelli's fifth victory and Collum's first defeat. Cincinnati hasn't beaten Antonelli since Sept. 20, 1953, when he was with Milwaukee.

Bobo Will Try To Set The Pace In Moore Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight Champion Bobo Olson Thursday promised to set the pace against Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore when they meet June 22 at the Polo Grounds.

"No one in his right mind would try to box with Moore," said Olson as he arrived by plane from San Francisco to start the New York phase of his training. "If you lay back and try to box him, he'll catch you sooner or later with a right hand."

Olson also said he thought he could stop Moore if he got the opportunity. "If you can match him he'll go," said Bobo. "He's been stopped before."

Sid Flaherty, Olson's manager, said he definitely would not permit his fighter to meet Moore if the light-heavy king couldn't make the 175-pound class limit.

16 Of Nation's Top Pros Begin Round Robin Play

By WILL GRIMSLEY

GREAT NECK, N. Y. (AP)—Lightly-regarded Marty Furgol piled up the points but Sam Snead and ex-gridder Mike Souchak played the golf Thursday in the opening round of the Deepdale Round Robin tournament.

Furgol, 36-year-old touring veteran from Lemont, Ill., took the lead in this so-called "adding machine open" with a score of eight-plus points—achieved with a respective par 70 round over the 6,693-yard Deepdale course.

In second place at plus-7 came Australia's Peter Thomson and bombastic Tommy Bolt of Houston, with a pair of 69's, followed by former National Open Champion Julius Boros, with plus-six on an even par 70.

Snead, the defending champion, and Souchak, the powerfully-built former Duke University end, were the only other players on the plus side of the ledger although they, playing in the same foursome, turned in sparkling rounds of two-under-par 68. They were plus-5.

The reason for this unusual situation is that in the Deepdale Round Robin each player's score is matched with that of the others in his foursome and the standings are set up accordingly.

It so happened that Snead and Souchak were bracketed in the day's toughest "cut 'em up" quartet, with the Masters Champion Cary Middlecoff and PGA champion Chick Harbert as playing companions.

Harbert, from Northville, Mich., fired a 70 and Middlecoff a 72.

Furgol picked up eight-plus total against Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, who had a 72, and Shelley Mayfield and Johnny Palmer, each with 73.

Thomson and Bolt gained their runnerup position in a foursome with Doug Ford, who had 72, and Ted Kroll, 73. Boros got his six points at the expense of Gene Littler, Jackie Burke and Francis (Bo) Wininger, who yielded two each in shooting identical 72's.

Trabert, Davidson In Net Finals

PARIS (AP)—Defending champion Tony Trabert, America's hottest player at the moment, and Sweden's top man, Sven Davidson, Thursday won their way to the men's singles finals of the French International Tennis Tournament.

Trabert, of Cincinnati, won his match when his Davis Cup teammate, Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., sprained his right ankle and was unable to continue. Trabert had won the first set 6-1 and was clearly in command when Richardson made a flying dive for a difficult shot in the second set and wound up rolling on the court near the net.

Pirates Hand Cards 12-3 Setback; Haddix Registers 8th Loss

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates teed off on five St. Louis Cardinal pitchers for 17 hits Thursday and a 12-3 victory. Dale Long and Frank Thomas homered for the Pirates.

Frank Thomas blasted his fourth homer of the season in the second inning and Dale Long came up with his third in the fifth.

Max Surkont went the distance for the Pirates, picking up his fourth triumph against five defeats. Starter Harvey Haddix was charged with the defeat, his eighth. He's won two.

Long collected two singles in addition to his four-bagger and had a total of five RBI's.

The Pirates jumped on Haddix and reliefer Brooks Lawrence for five runs on five hits in the third inning.

With two out, Roberto Clemente and Dick Cole smacked singles, Clemente scoring on an error by outfielder Wally Moon. Ramon Mejias doubled Cole home and Thomas and George Freese got walks to load the bases. Long singled to score Mejias and Thomas, and Dick Groat slammed a two-bagger to send Freese across the plate.

BROOKLYN (AP) — Brooklyn scored 10 runs in a wild eighth inning Thursday while humbling Milwaukee 13-2. Eddie Mathews' pinch homer in the eighth and Johnny Logan's homer in the ninth were the only runs off Billy Loes' six-hit pitching. Duke Snider hit his 16th homer in the third and 15 Dodgers went to bat in the eighth to collect nine hits and three walks.

The eighth was a nightmare for Manager Charlie Grimm, who used three Milwaukee pitchers in an attempt to stop the rally. He had removed Buhl for pinchhitter Mathews in the top of the inning. Dave Jolly, Roberto Vargas and finally John Edelman, a new bonus pitcher who just joined the club Thursday, took turns ducking Dodger line drives.

Reese started it all by working Jolly for a walk. Snider and Roy Campanella singled. Amoros doubled off the scoreboard and Gil Hodges and Jackie Robinson walked. At that point, three runs were in and the bases still were loaded with nobody out.

Vargas took over to yield a two-run single to Carl Furillo. After Loes sacrificed, Junior Gilliam tripled off the right field screen, driving in two more. Reese, up for the second time in the inning, singled home another run and Snider also singled. That was enough for Vargas and Grimm called for his new bonus boy.

Campanella and Amoros greeted him with singles, knocking in two more scores before Edelman struck out Hodges and made Robinson foul out.

The carnage included 10 runs, nine hits and three walks.

MUDDY RUEL IN KC TO TALK TRADE

DETROIT (AP)—General manager Herold Ruel of the Detroit Tigers went to Kansas City Thursday with the avowed intentions of "talking trade-or-buy" with the New York Yankees and the Kansas City Athletics.

Just who Ruel might be interested in wasn't disclosed. Injuries, however, recently riddled the Detroit infield and rookie replacements failed to come through adequately. The Tigers lost four in a row before beating Washington 9-0 Wednesday.

• FAN • BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

"He's gonna be missed, he had a lot on the ball," was the way one fan put it after hearing Jim Smarjesse was leaving Routt to accept the head basketball coaching position at Peoria Spalding. To us that just about tells the story and expresses our sentiments exactly. He sure is gonna be missed and needless to say he had a lot on the ball—all you need to do to verify this final statement is watch his teams operate.

—o—

We know the town, the fans, the Routt students and faculty hate to see him go and have a tremendous amount of respect for the Springfield product. However, to us the real judge of what kind of a coach and guy he is should be the players themselves if for no other reason than he was with them much more than he was with anyone else. We asked a few and the most popular answer was, "He's the best." How can you beat that?

—o—

A tribute to his coaching ability can be found in the remarks of fans attending games in which Smarjesse coached teams were playing. More than once we've heard someone say, "Now there's a well coached ball club." There is also another point we'd like to make and this is the attitude of his players while on the field or on the floor. They acted like perfect gentlemen in the games we witnessed. If there was any complaining or umpire baiting carried on Jim did it.

—o—

Although Jim isn't sure as yet as to which spring sport he'll get we hope it's baseball. After carrying on several lengthy discussions with him we believe he's one of the finest students of the game we've ever met.

—o—

This corner, personally, hates to see Jim go but realizes it's quite a promotion for the likeable gent. Spalding, an all boys Catholic school, has long held its own among prep athletic circles. Jim helped us a lot during this past school year for which we're deeply appreciative. We can't help but feel this move is one that will eventually lead him to the top. Here's hoping.

Moving Pictures Show Cause Of Vukovich Spill

NEW YORK (AP)—Moving pictures of the accident during the 500 mile Indianapolis race on Memorial Day indicate Bill Vukovich, who was killed, was hopelessly caught in a snarl of cars that started when Roger Ward's machine went into a spin.

Les Becker, supervising editor of Dynamic Films, the official photographers of the Memorial Day automobile race, after a review of the film Thursday, said:

"Car No. 27 driven by Roger Ward spins coming out of the second turn (the southeast turn), brushes the wall, and comes to rest across the track beneath the foot bridge which straddles the backstretch.

"Car No. 39, with Johnny Boyd driving, and car No. 4 with Bill Vukovich driving, come out of the turn into the backstretch and head down to the left to avoid Ward's car.

"Al Keller, with car No. 42, who preceded Boyd and Vukovich, spins from the left of the track across the track and hits No. 39, pushing him in front of No. 4. No. 4 hits No. 39, flips over the right guard rail and continues to flip, end over end, across the service road, which runs parallel to the backstretch of the track and ends up on its back and in flames.

"Ed Elisian, who was coming up behind, stopped his car and ran across the track to help Vukovich."

National Golf Day Tomorrow; Local Players Sign Up

Today and tomorrow are the final two days for local golfers to take part in the National Golf Day program. Application blanks are available at the Country Club and at Nichols Park.

The Annual National Golf Day is sponsored by Life Magazine and the PGA and is a day when golfers throughout the nation have the opportunity of defeating a couple of national professional champions. This year the men will shoot against U.S. Open winner Ed Furgol while the women will be firing against Patty Berg.

The two pros shoot their 18-holes at San Francisco Saturday while their opponents, every golfer in America, play their 18-holes on their own course. The scores are sent in by the local pros and all golfers shooting better golf than Furgol and Berg receive medals and certificates.

The money raised for this year's Day goes to the Red Cross.

Gets Head Basketball Position As Well As Frosh-Soph Football

Jim Smarjesse, after four years as head coach in all three sports at Routt High School, has been signed as varsity basketball and freshman - sophomore football coach at Peoria Spalding.

Smarjesse came to Routt in the fall of 1951 after having served as director of physical education and health for the Springfield diocese. Previous to this time he spent two years in the Air Force following graduation from Bradley in 1947.

Smarjesse was graduated from Springfield High School in 1940 and Springfield Junior college two years later. He also attended Northwestern at Evanston prior to his hitch in the Air Force.

During his four years at Routt, the local teams have more than held their own in the PMBC conference play as well as in other competition. The 32-year-old mentor led the Rockets to a conference football title his first year here in 1951. The Rockets also won the same title in 1954 after having finished second in '53. Both '51 and '54 seasons produced undefeated teams.

His basketball quints have been equally successful. Smarjesse coached cage teams won two conference tourneys as well as two conference titles. They also added two district tournament crowns and one regional title. The regional win being a thrilling decision over Jacksonville High School in the Franklin tourney this past winter. The Rockets were regional runnerups two years ago.

Smarjesse, married and the father of three children, takes over football this fall. Besides being varsity football coach he will take over one of the spring sports, probably baseball.

Phillies Roll Over Cubs 8-4

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Andy Seminick's first-inning grand slam homer started the surging Philadelphia Phillies on the road to an 8-4 win over the Chicago Cubs Thursday night. Although he wasn't around for the finish, Curt Simmons chalked up his second win against the same number of losses, batting in one run with a third-inning single.

The Cubs got two of their runs on Ernie Bank's seventh inning homer—his 13th of the season.

Simmons, who looked strong through the first six innings, weakened in the seventh and gave way to Bob Miller. Curt fanned three in his sixth and two-thirds inning stint and gave up three of the Cub runs.

The Phillies lumped five runs in the first inning and added the other three in the third.

Bank's seventh inning homer came after Hank Sauer singled. A pass to Walker Cooper and a single by Jim Bolger set the stage for Clyde McCullough's pinchhit single, scoring Cooper. Bob Miller replaced Simmons and putout the fire.

The Cubs picked up their fourth run in the ninth as Frank Baumholtz hit a pinch double, moved to third on a fielder's choice and scored on a wild pitch.

Harry Perkowski took Andre's place at the start of the seventh and finished up. The loss was charged to Hacker, his third against four wins.

The victory was the Phillies' 10th in their last 12 games, not counting a suspended game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Satchel Paige Inks Monarch Pact

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Baseball's hardy perennial, LeRoy (Satchel) Paige, is back on a payroll Thursday.

T. Y. Baird, owner of the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League, said he had signed the venerable right-hander for "something in the neighborhood of $40,000."

Paige has been on the loose since he was released by the Baltimore Orioles last year. He offered his services to the Kansas City Athletics a few weeks ago but the A's weren't interested.

Kaline Sparks Tigers To 4-3 Edge Of Senators

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Young Al Kaline the early season hitting sensation who refuses to let his batting average fade away, recaptured the American League batting lead Thursday with two singles and a triple while leading the Detroit Tigers to a 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

The 20-year-old outfielder pushed his average to .332, three points higher than teammate Harvey Kuenn, who is idled by an injured leg.

Kaline singled past third base in the fourth inning and scored the Tigers' first run when Ray Boone and Bubba Phillips followed with singles.

Washington had taken a 1-0 lead in the top of the fourth when Pete Runnels lined his second home run of the season into the upper right field deck.

In the sixth, Kaline tripled down the left field foul line, the ball kicking up chalk dust and bouncing into the bull pen. He rose home ahead of Jack Phillips' 375-foot home run into the lower left centerfield seats—his first of the season.

North Chicago Tops Decatur In Prep Opener

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—North Chicago's Willie Thompson hurled a no-hitter and drove across both his team's runs in a 2-0 seven-inning triumph over Decatur as the Illinois state high school baseball meet opened Thursday.

Decatur got two men on base in the sixth on a walk and an error, but failed to advance a runner beyond second.

Thomson, who struck out eight and walked two, singled through the box to score Bill Smrnik and Ed Blachaniec in the third after his two mates reached base on errors.

It was the season's 12th victory against two defeats for Thompson. Decatur's Bob Davis suffered his third loss against nine victories.

Peoria's Leon Hurst yielded five hits in suffering his season's first defeat after 11 straight victories. Tony Richkas' double, singles by Paul Rice and Dick Brooks and Choate's sacrifice fly after Jerome Grant opened with a walk produced the four East St. Louis runs.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The corporate bond market improved moderately Thursday but many U. S. government liens eased.

All sections of the corporate list—Railroads, industrials and utilities—tended to gain ground. Convertible obligations also climbed irregularly. However, "Big Board" volume declined to $3,875,000 par value from $4,330,000 Wednesday.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market shook free from the doldrums Thursday and managed a modest advance.

For the past three sessions, the stock market failed to get anywhere pricewise, but Thursday it swung ahead.

Demand broadened to include most major divisions and encompassed some that have been neglected of late.

The steels did well along with motors, rubbers, farm implements, aircrafts, distillers, chemicals, motion pictures, building materials, and utilities.

The railroads were ahead most of the session but ran into mild profit-taking near the close. A similar fate befell the airlines. Both of these divisions were strong Wednesday. Tobaccos, weak Wednesday, made a small recovery gesture Thursday.

Prices throughout the list were up 1 to 3 points frequently. Losses seldom were as great as a point.

The market was helped psychologically by the strong rise of the London stock market. The advance there was ascribed to American buying.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 50 cents at $165.30. It was down 10 cents Wednesday. The average now stands close to the record high of $166.80 scored last April 26 just before the market went into a consolidating reaction.

The industrial component of the average was ahead $1.00, rails were down 20 cents, and utilities were up 20 cents.

The market broadened out to include 1,199 individual issues of which 510 advanced and 441 declined with 71 new highs and 22 new lows for the year touched.

Business amounted to 2,610,000 shares, best total in three weeks. It was 2,510,000 shares Wednesday.

Brokers felt that the expanded volume on the rise underlined the possibility that the market might try to break through the old high mark without further preliminaries.

Volume amounted to 850,000 shares as compared with 730,000 shares traded Wednesday.

WHEAT FUTURES UP AFTER EASY START

By WILLARD ROBERTSON

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures started easy and then rallied Thursday on the Board of Trade. Feed grains were weak and soybeans lost around two cents a bushel.

A private crop forecast was the main bullish influence in wheat. Soybeans continued downward on good crop weather and continued weakness in oil and meal.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ½ higher, corn 1 to 1⅞ lower, oats ⅞ to 1½ lower, rye ¼ to ½ higher, soybeans unchanged to 1½ lower, and lard 5 to 18 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Early weakness in wheat was due to the continued harvest movement in the Southwest and excellent growing weather in the northwestern spring wheat belt. Traders said spring wheat prospects were good and that Canadian spring wheat prospects had improved.

C. M. Galvin, crop expert for Francis I. du Pont and Co., in his new estimate predicted a winter wheat crop about 20 million bushels less than his estimate a month ago, and about 21 million bushels less than the government's forecast as of May 1.

Galvin estimated winter wheat production as of June 1 at 631,327,000 bushels compared with his May 1 estimate of 651,265,000 and a government forecast of 652,886,000. Production in 1954 was 790,737,000 and the 10-zear average 867,390,000.

The government's weekly crop summary indicated better winter wheat production than had been forecast previously. Spring wheat prospects are excellent, with rain having fallen in some areas and more predicted.

Corn growing prospects are good, and that is a depressing influence on the market.

Soybeans growing conditions also are fine and a large crop is expected.

WOMAN, 107, DIES

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Angela Casarella, said by her family to have been 107 years old, died Thursday. Born in Italy, she had lived alone in her apartment, watched over by solicitous neighbors. A daughter, who visited the apartment every other day, found her mother weak Wednesday night

Tito, Bulganin Sign Document Aimed At Reconciliation Idea

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslavia signed a declaration of principles with the Soviet Union Thursday night, but President Tito apparently did not yield an inch of his independence.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party boss in the Soviet Union who came here a week ago pleading for a political reconciliaion with Tito, will leave Friday empty-handed, judging from what is now known.

Khrushchev, who led the six-man Soviet delegation here and did most of the talking, didn't even sign the declaration. He sat smiling as Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin scratched his name with Tito's on the document.

(In Washington, the State Department officially declined comment immediately. Informal reaction of officials was that the communique seemed vague and nothing to be alarmed about.)

Relations of the Communist parties in the two countries were not even mentioned in the declaration. The principal points it made were:

1. Yugoslavia supports "the satisfaction of the legitimate rights of the (Communist) People's Republic of China with regard to Taiwan (Formosa). . ."

2. Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union support "a settlement of the German question "on a democratic basis, in conformity both with the wishes and desires of the German people and with the interests of general security."

3. Both governments support "a system of collective security in Europe based on a treaty."

4. The role and authority of the United Nations should be strengthened, and Communist China should be given a seat in the U. N.

5. The two governments have decided to conduct their future relations "in a spirit of friendly cooperation" and conclude arrangements for improving economic relations.

6. "Respect for the sovereignty, independence, integrity and equality among states in their mutual relations and in their relations with other states. Recognition and development of peaceful coexistence among nations regardless of ideological differences or differences of social order."

7. "They (Russia and Yugoslavia) have agreed to take further steps toward the normalization of their relations and the promotion of cooperation between the two countries."

Happy Fliers, Families Reunited In Hawaii

Parks and his brother, Richard. The elder Parks could not speak until he reached the bottom of the ramp. Then he said: "I hope to God you're okay."

The families talked softly to each other in front of television cameras for a few minutes. In answer to a shout from the crowd, the elder Cameron said:

"I'm happy inside. That's all I know."

For the most part the conversation was an incoherent jumble of happy exclamations, phrases and sobs.

Then they all left for the plush quarters reserved for them at Hickam.

The four pilots were shot down in North Korea in 1952 and 1953. They were not released at the time of the armistice because the Communists insisted they had flown over Manchuria.

The fliers at Wednesday's news conference showed considerable concern over Americans they left behind in Red China's prisons, particularly the 11 U. S. airmen jailed by the Communists as "spies."

Maj. Gen. Sory Smith, Pacific Air Force commander, pointed this up at the outset of the conference in cautioning reporters:

"We have four men here. There should be 15. Please keep that in mind."

Fischer was chosen to close the conference with this:

"I think we all really feel that we want to thank the American people for all the efforts that they went to in getting us out. The United Nations, and all the efforts that were expended in our behalf.

"I just hope that it's continued for the other Americans who are still there."

All the fliers said they had seen none of the 11 jailed fliers or any other Americans during their imprisonment.

Left unanswered from the news conference was whether the pilots' planes actually crashed in Manchuria, as charged by Red China. Asked about this, Heller said "I think we'll just let that question slide for awhile."

The United States insists they were shot down in combat over North Korea but concedes the possibility disabled planes or parachuting pilots may have come down in nearby Manchuria.

Heller did say they pleaded guilty in a Peiping trial to an indictment of "intruding into China for harassment and provocative attack." All declined to say, however, whether they signed "confessions."

While all spent time in solitary confinement, they agreed that treatment was better than they had expected.

83 INJURED IN SUBWAY CRASH IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Two crowded subway trains collided at the height of the morning rush hour Thursday, injuring 83 persons. Nine of those injured were hospitalizd.

A southbound train struck the rear of another train which had stopped in a tunnel near the Hunts Point station in the Bronx. Both trains were operating on the Lexington Ave. line.

Police said the most seriously injured person was a woman who suffered a broken leg.

Sidney H. Bingham, general manager of the transit system, suspended Patrick Carmody, motorman of the train which rammed the halted train.

Pending an investigation Bingham called the accident apparently a "case of human failure."

Squeeze 8 Years Into 3 For High, College Studies

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Margaret Gregory, who spent her early years riding a unicycle in her parents' vaudeville act, will be graduated from Syracuse University Monday after squeezing eight year's of education into three.

"I never had a chance to go to school," she says. "We were just never in one place long enough. But mother did her best to teach me the three R's."

When the red-haired collegian gets her bachelor of arts degree, it will culminate three busy years in which she has completed normal four-year courses in both high school and college studies.

Miss Gregory, 32, was born in Petersburg, Va. and for 15 years was part of the family bicycle acrobatic act.

Snapshot Only Photo Of Hero's First Decoration

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ten years ago today on an Austrian airstrip, a general pinned the Medal of Honor on a Texas boy so young that he couldn't even grow a mustache.

The ceremony climaxed one of the most amazing fighting careers in American military history and made 2nd Lt. Audie Murphy the most decorated hero of World War II.

Yet there was no official photograph made that day—but a Red Cross doughnut girl snapped a picture with a box camera. It was in her scrapbook until Murphy, now a movie star, went on location near Yakima, Wash., for the filming of his own exploits in "To Hell and Back."

She had a reunion there with Murphy and gave him the snapshot. It is published nationally today for the first time.

To get the nation's highest decoration, Murphy had staged a one man war with six Nazi tanks and waves of enemy foot soldiers. The citation is so amazing that no movie script writer would dare to come up with such a scene. Here's the official record:

The lone Texan, under fire from three sides, jumped atop a burning tank destroyer that could have blown up at any minute. In that precarious position, Murphy manned the destroyer's machine gun with such deadly accuracy that he not only stopped the German attack—he routed it in retreat. He killed 50 of the enemy while suffering a leg wound himself.

Murphy was a 19-year-old second lieutenant at the time. He had been given a battlefield commission for an earlier exploit, having enlisted as an infantry private when he was 17.

7 Cheap Hotels Ordered Closed

CHICAGO (AP)—Seven of Chicago's low-rate hotels on the fringe of the loop, have been ordered closed for building violations, Richard Smykal, acting building commissioner said today.

Smykal said the buildings were ordered closed during the last two weeks as a result of special examinations by city building inspectors.

The inspections began after 51 persons died in fires since the first of the year in cheap hotels or flop houses.

Smykal said inspectors are scheduled to complete the special investigation of 179 hotels and 47 flop houses today and will begin re-inspection of the structures Friday.

James B. Watson Drowns In Pond On Farm Near Wrights

CARROLLTON—Greene County sheriff Fred Ballard and deputy Leonard Stone recovered the body of James Bryan Watson, 57, from a pond on the George Wright farm some 10 miles northeast of Carrollton about 6:45 p.m. Thursday.

Watson, who had left his home in nearby Wrights early in the afternoon, had parked his jeep on a blacktop road about 200 yards from the pond. His shoes, sox and belt were found on the west bank.

A neighbor, Leonard Walker, placed the telephone call which brought the officers to the scene.

Watson was born April 28, 1899, in Geneva, Ky., the son of James and Susan Watson. He moved to a farm three miles northwest of Wrights in 1948, and remained there until ill health forced him to move into the town last year.

He married Rosa Viola Byer, who survives, in Booneville, Ind., on February 2, 1926. The couple lived at Beardstown from 1928 to 1946, and at Hillview from 1946 to 1948.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by one son, Nelson Watson of Murrayville; two sisters, Mrs. Lulu Holmes of Henderson, Ky., and Mrs. Minnie Crowley of East Prairie, Mo.; four stepchildren, Walter Sanderson of Palmyra, Mrs. Lester Mohlman of York, Pa., William Sanders of Evansville, Ind., and Thomas Sanders at home in Wrights; and three grandchildren.

One son and three brothers preceded him in death.

The body was taken to the Shields Memorial Home in Greenfield, where friends may call. Greene County coroner William H. Wolfe will hold an inquest at the funeral home, probably this evening.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. (CST) Sunday at the Wrights Baptist Church, and burial will be made in Hickory Grove cemetery near Wrights.

Incorporates Both Ford, Union Ideas

Wednesday and some more Thursday. The company said some cars were "sabotaged" with scratches and knife slashes on assembly lines. The union made no comment.

Under the guaranteed annual wage plan Reuther has demanded that the auto industry pay laid-off workers substantially their regular earnings though idle for as long as a year. The employer's payment would be to the extent this was not met by state unemployment compensation checks to workers.

These present governmental payments, financed through an employer payroll tax, vary in amounts and duration between states. Payments for the nation at large average about $25 a week, in Michigan they average $30.13 for a maximum of 26 weeks.

Ford has been seeking another five-year contract while the union has said it is unwilling to sign an agreement for longer than two years. A contract running three years, as reported included in the Ford offer, would represent a compromise.

Ford's previous "prosperity partnership plan," rejected by the union, called for permitting employes to buy company stock at half price, extending them interest free loans during layoffs, and granting them separation pay upon discharge. The UAW termed this offer "phoney" and said it did not satisfy the union's guaranteed annual wage demands.

Helpful Citizens Potent Weapons In Crime War: Hoover

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today described confidential informants in law enforcement work as "helpful citizens" and "potent weapons" in the war against crime and subversion.

"There can be no doubt that the use of informants in law enforcement is justified," he said. "The public interest and the personal safety of these helpful citizens demand the zealous protection of their confidence.

"Unlike the totalitarian practice, the informant in America serves of his own free will, fulfilling one of the citizenship obligations of our democratic form of government."

He asserted that to abandon use of such informants would be "to invite destruction."

Hoover expressed his views in a signed editorial in the monthly FBI's law enforcement bulletin.

He made no direct reference to some renewed criticism of the confidential informer system which followed the recent action of former communist Harvey Matusow and other ex-Reds who have appeared as government witnesses in recanting testimony given under oath.

The federal government is currently defending in the Supreme Court its asserted right to protect sources of confidential information in reviewing employe security.

State Legislature

State Police Force

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Despite criticism, a House bill to bolster the 500 - man State Police force to 600 advanced to the Senate Thursday with a 94 to 27 vote.

Pushing it along was the argument of supporters that more police were needed to patrol an expanding highway system which attracted more and more riders.

Some lawmakers quarreled with the measure because it did not confine the authority of patrolmen to overseeing traffic. They said they feared the powers of local officers would be usurped by the state officers.

Gov. Stratton and the Legislature's Motor Vehicles Laws Commission recommended the bill.

Send Bills to Governor

The Senate completed action on and sent to the governor house bills to:

Continue with a $10,000 appropriation the 15-man Illinois Mississippi Canal and Sinissipp Lake Commssion. It would report in two years on the feasibility of obtaining the federally owned waters as a state recreation area.

Create a new state division of industrial planning and development directed by a $8,000-a-year superintendent. Through research and other activities the division would seek to encourage new industry to locate in the state.

Bills Sent to House

The Senate passed and sent to the House bills to:

Extend the state's libel law on radio to include television, and revise the law in two respects. Although truth is now a sufficient defense against libel actions, the bill would also require that it have been published with good motives and justifiable ends. The bill also repeals exemption from liability for libel by a station or its personnel for any statements over its facilities by a political candidate.

Create a $25,000 commission of 15 members to study the prevalence of wiretapping in the state and to report in two years on legislative action needed if any.

Stratton Vetoes

Gov. Stratton today vetoed a bill to allow the defendant in a criminal case to choose which of judges in a circuit could try him.

Such selection would be made possible under the bill by empowering the defendant to disqualify all except one judge by filing unsupported affidavits alleging prejudice.

In his veto message, Stratton said that in Cook County the bill, if enacted, might produce a situation in which less than 5 per cent of felons apprehended and indicted could be tried.

The governor said this would be the result if most defendants chose any one judge to try them and ammed his docket, forcing delays mhat would permit them to go free for want of a reasonably prompt trial.

Judicial Reform

Opponents of a resolution aiming at judicial reform succeeded Thursday in stalling its progress in the Illinois House Executive Committee.

Backers of the resolution, a top item set for achievement by the administration of Gov. Stratton, had hoped to move it out to the House floor for a passage roll call.

Delaying tactics were engineered by Rep. Robert Romano (D-Chicago). His motions for adjournment and other parliamentary procedures required time-consuming roll calls.

Roman finally raised successfully the point that the House was due to reconvene and that rules prevented a committee acting while the House was in session.

More Bills Signed

Gov. Stratton Thursday signed into law a bill extending the privilege to levy a tax by referendum for the care of neglected cemeteries to cities of less than 25,000, instead of the present 15,000 limit.

He approved a bill to require colts to be eligible for certain Illinois racing prizes to have certificates showing their mare was Illinois-owned at the time the colt was conceived. A $6,000-a-year investigator will examine certificates for accuracy.

Another approved bill designates Lake Le-Aqua-Na in Stephenson County and Lincoln Trail in Clark County as State Parks.

Still another requires school busee to bear in eight inch high lettering on front and rear "school bus", and prohibits vehicles from passing them while they are stopped on state highway.

Stratton vetoed a bill that would have amended the Revenue Act to classify public airport property as real estate encumbered by public easement and thus tax exempt. He said he was advised it was unconstitutional.

Convention Hall Bill

The House Thursday refused to approve a bill calling for erection of a 34 million dollar convention hall on Chicago's lakefront.

Sponsors of the bill, noting that it was not receiving the required 77 votes, kept it alive for another passage attempt later by postponing the roll call before it was completed.

The measure, backed by Gov. Stratton, would set up a metropolitan fair and exposition authority to issue bonds for building and tion hall. The money would come from a special fund fed by horse race taxes.

Objectors to the bill said it would place a government corporation in competition with private enterprise. Supporters of the measure said Chicago needs a large building close to loop hotels to maintain its position as the leading convention city.

Broyles Bills

The Broyles anti-subversive bills were advanced to passage stage Thursday in the Illinois House after a series of opposition amendments were defeated.

One of the bills requires loyalty oaths from public employes and the second sets up stiff penalties against persons attempting to overthrow the government or belonging to subversive organizations.

The House rejected three amendments by Rep. Alan Dixon (D-Belleville), including to revise the loyalthy oath by making it a pledge to uphold the constitution. Sponsors of the bill said the amendment would destroy the purpose of the legislation.

The House adopted an amendment by Rep. Paul Ziegler (D-Vienna) eliminating from the legislation 250 organizations listed as subversive by the U. S. attorney general. The Broyles bills already have passed the Senate.

Mrs. Spencer Tracy To Visit I. S. D. Institute

The eleventh annual school for parents of pre-school deaf children is in session at the Illinois School for the Deaf. Thirty-four parents and twenty-four children, are jarring the summer vacation doldrums of the School for the Deaf here in what appears to be a series of picnics on the ancient, elm shaded 100-acre campus. Actually, they're in school.

The parents are the pupils. They attend five classes a day in a ten day summer clinic designed to help them prepare their children for school through such mediums as teaching breath control, feeling the rolling rhythm of a bass drum, and putting together picture puzzles. Because all the tots who scamper in the campus play yard are deaf, their parents all of whom have normal hearing, face the problem of teaching them to talk without the chief help of all learned language.

The clinic is without charge, under the sponsorship of the Department of Public Welfare, the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the University of Illinois Division of Services for Crippled Children.

The purpose of the course is to show parents how they can help their handicapped children to make necessary social and psychological adjustments, develop speech and overcome some of the particular problems of deafness.

At the clinic, these parents are taught what they can do to carry on school instruction at home as well as techniques for preparing a deaf child for school.

POLIO VACCINES NOW BETTER DR. SALK SAYS

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk said Thursday polio vaccines now in use "are better than those used in the field trials." He added that they should lower the rate of paralytic polio.

An analysis of the field trials of the Salk vaccine last year showed it between 80 and 90 per cent effective against polio.

Dr. Salk told a news conference that probably more cases of so-called polio would be reported than ever before. Other ailments are often mistaken for polio, he contended, just as many other disturbances are referred to in winter as influenza.

Woman Victim Of Her 2 Doberman Pincher Dogs

TOMS RIVER, N.J. (AP)— A 64-year-old woman was found dead on the beach near her summer cottage Wednesday, the mangled victim of her two Doberman Pinscher dogs.

State police said the two animals apparently turned on Mrs. Winifred W.L. Bacon and killed her. The dogs, one a male and the other a female, were racing madly about her body.

Mrs. Bacon's left arm and shoulder were ripped, and authorities said the male dog's mouth and face was covered with blood. After an autopsy, Coroner Anderson King listed the cause of death as "a massive hemorrhage from dog bites."

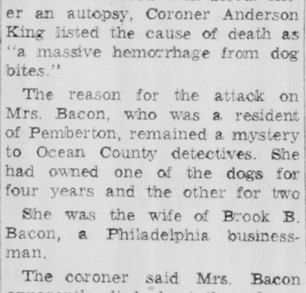

The reason for the attack on Mrs. Bacon, who was a resident of Pemberton, remained a mystery to Ocean County detectives. She had owned one of the dogs for four years and the other for two.

She was the wife of Brook B. Bacon, a Philadelphia businessman.

The coroner said Mrs. Bacon apparently died about three hours before her body was discovered.

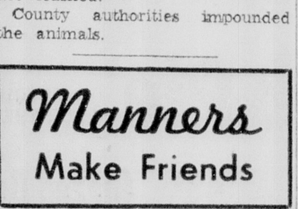

Sgt. Lester Johnson of the Toms River state police said her body was found by Gerhard Loeling of Manasquan, who saw the two dogs running about. Loeling was unable to get close and summoned help. Johnson said Mrs. Bacon apparently had been walking the dogs when they attacked her. The dogs were not leashed.

County authorities impounded the animals.

It is always rude for a motorist to refuse to give a pedestrian a break when he is trying to cross a street. But the rudest thing of all is for a motorist not to be especially considerate of an old person. Certainly no driver is ever in such a big hurry he can't slow down to make crossing a street easier and safer for an old man or woman.

Or any other pedestrian for that matter.

The feet of American women are getting bigger—probably from putting them down so hard.

No Holiday Road Deaths In Pike; Two Are Injured

PITTSFIELD—According to Deputy Sheriff Ray Lyman, no fatal accidents occurred on the highways of the county during the Memorial Day holidays. For several years past the holiday seasons have been more free of accidents in this county than in normal traffic, probably due to the fact that more caution is taken.

The condition of Renwick G. Congdon, a student from Colorado College who was injured in an accident on highway 36 Saturday, involving only his own car, is reported at Illini hospital to be "fair." He sustained a broken leg and multiple other injuries less serious. His father is reported to be enroute to his bedside from California.

Miss Mary Nanette Spindel of Springfield, injured in the same accident, remains a patient in the hospital here. The recovery of injuries to her arm has not been satisfactory.

FIRST LODGE PARTY SUNDAY

The first in a series of summer parties to be held at the Moose Lodge headquarters is being planned for next Sunday evening, June 5. Invitations have been issued to the more than three hundred members of the local lodge and their families, and members of the order from Hannibal, Jacksonville, Beardstown, Jerseyville, Quincy and Rushville have also been invited. This first party is being given, according to Gill Greife, secretary, as a sort of celebration of the extensive improvements made in the Lodge hall, which, among other things, is now completely air conditioned down stairs and up.

The program will include dancing to the music of Chick Robinson and his orchestra, floor shows and smorgesbord, with turkey and ham and accompaniments. Prizes will be free dues for the year.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet Russia is expected to play much the same sort of game in the current Japanese peace treaty talks that she has been trying with regard to Germany.

It seems probable that she will give another good display of sweetness and light while trying all the time to create difficulties between Japan and the West, particularly the United States.

In some ways she is in a better position with regard to Japan than she is in Europe. She has some things she can offer without too much expense to herself, while the reunification of Germany involves important dangers.

She can give back the Kurile and other Japanese islands she occupied after the war, she can return Japanese war prisoners which she obviously has been holding as a bargaining factor, and she can offer a trade agreement which would be extremely important to Japan despite the latter's adherence to Western embargo regulations. Better fishing rights would be an important part of the bait.

The rub comes in what Russia wants in return. She has not said.

But there are two objectives which are at the bottom of general Russian policy these days. One is to stir up sentiment against American military bases on foreign soil and the other to stall the general rise in Allied military strength.

This business of military strength is already a matter of delicate relations between the United States and Japan. Under the peace treaty between Japan and the United States, Japan is supposed to rearm at least to the point where she can defend herself.

Pressed by internal demands for increased government support of public welfare schemes, the Tokyo government is proscrastinating on rearmament. It's not only a matter of money, but also a recognition of an important segment of public sentiment against any return of the militarism which cost the country so dearly 10 years ago.

It is the type of soft spot in the Western position on which the Russians love to press.

Beef To Be Most Popular Feature This Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef will be the most popular feature in the nation's food stores this weekend.

Most often mentioned as a weekend feature was chuck roast, with some markets shaving prices around six cents a pound from a week ago. Round roast and various kinds of steaks will be specials in a number of areas.

Legs of lamb will be on the weekend good buy list in some stores, but elsewhere prices will be unchanged or a bit higher.

Frying chicken prices are generally higher. Increases of two to six cents a pound are planned by a major chain.

Eggs also may be a few cents higher in your market. Butter prices will show little change.

Good buys in vegetables, include yellow and green squash, peppers, escarole, pascal celery, and nearby items such as spinach, radishes, and green onions.

Beets (mostly with tops), asparagus, carrots and onions also are worthwhile purchases, in the opinion of produce specialists. Heavy shipments of California long white potatoes and Florida round whites have brought lower prices. Old crop potatoes are selling for about the same as a week ago.

It's the new kind of hardtop—

The 4-Door Riviera!

THERE seems to be some confusion about what a hardtop really is, and we'd like to set the matter straight.

A hardtop is a car that looks like a Convertible with the top up—but has a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas.

Up until just recently, it could be built in volume only with two doors—not more—because it would take wholly new structural principles to hinge another set of doors without floor-to-roof center posts.

But Buick came up with those new structural principles and is now building—in volume—hardtops with four doors.

You see one pictured here. It's the 4-Door Riviera. And it's taking the country by storm . . .

Because here, at long last, is an automobile with the sleek and sporty styling of a true hardtop—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus the added room of a full-size Buick Sedan.

On top of that, this beauty is all Buick—with the buoyant ride of Buick's all-coil springing—the walloping might of Buick's record-high V8 power—the whip-quick getaway and sizable gas savings of Buick's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

And it's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged 188-hp SPECIAL, and the high-performance 236-hp CENTURY, illustrated here

Come visit us for a first-hand meeting with the 4-Door Riviera—and see how quickly and how easily the last word in automobiles can be yours.

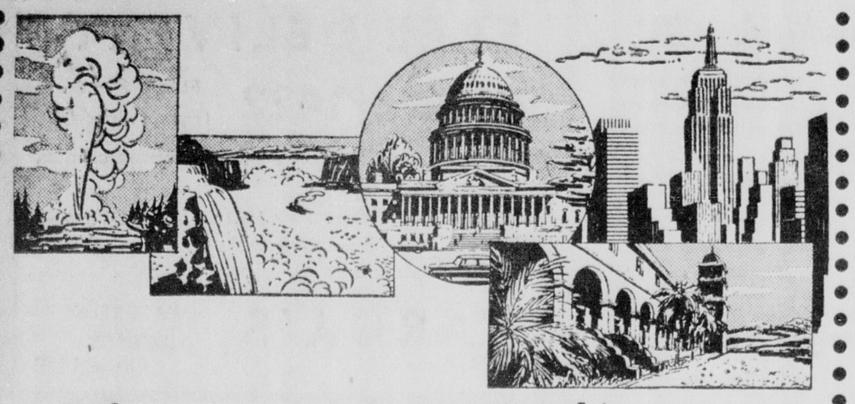

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

THE STORY: Unwittingly Private Detective Michael Shayne aids his frightened secretary Lucy Hamilton, hide a fugitive from police. She insists Jack Bristow, the fugitive, is not a murderer and Shayne investigates, learning that a girl has been strangled and that Bristow is deeply involved. Returning to Lucy's apartment, Shayne is in time for a visit of Police Chief Will Gentry and Reporter Tim Rourke, both friends of Shayne.

* * *

SOUND was wrenched from Lucy's throat. She started forward, her face worked convulsively, but Shayne put in sharply: "Some friend of Lucy's? Is that it?"

"I don't think so." Gentry's veiled eyes hadn't missed Lucy's involuntary start, but he disregarded it and answered Shayne matter-of-factly. "We don't know too much about the dead girl yet, but off-hand I wouldn't pick Trixie for anyone Lucy'd give her address to. Handwriting doesn't jibe, either, with samples we found in her room. What I am guessing is that the man who killed her had the address in his pocket and dropped it accidentally."

"That sounds like a reasonable deduction," said Shayne scornfully. "You don't suspect Lucy of being intimate with a murder victim, but with the murderer. Any particular reason for thinking that?"

"Why, yes," said Gentry comfortably. "We know from a taxi driver that a young fellow flagged him half a block from the 18th Street address soon after we figure the girl was killed, and had him drive to this building. He acted nervous and funny in the cab," Gentry went on slowly, "and after he got out the driver noticed a blood smear where he'd been sitting."

Shayne sat back and nodded. "The man Sergeant Loftus was looking for. Did he find him?"

"The trail was an hour old. He searched every apartment in the building," Gentry went on heavily, "except this one. Claims you objected."

"Did he tell you why I objected?" Shayne demanded hotly. "When your storm troopers learn some manners they'll get along better in police work."

"Loftus told me about it," grunted Gentry. "Don't blame you much, Mike, but things would look a lot better if you hadn't interfered. Too bad Loftus didn't know about this name and address when he was here."

"If he had," said Shayne, "I'd have invited him in to look for himself."

"It's going to look bad if the papers get hold of it."

Shayne grinned and glanced aside at Rourke. "So you brought a reporter along with you?"

* * *

ROURKE yawned and unwound his lean body from the couch, strolled casually toward the open bedroom door that sagged inward on loose hinges behind Gentry.

Lucy started involuntarily and put her knuckles to her mouth, but Shayne's eyes followed the reporter with only casual interest.

Light footsteps came running up the stairs at that instant, and a trim young officer paused in the open outer doorway panting excitedly:

"Thought you'd want to hear this, Chief. Just got a flash over the radio from headquarters. An anonymous telephone call about half an hour ago identifies the 18th St. killer as Jack Bristow from New Orleans. With a description and a report that he was shot in the stomach, confirming the taxi driver about his coming here."

"Shot in the stomach, eh?" muttered Gentry. "There wasn't any gun or blood in the room." He was turned in his chair to listen to the man in the doorway and didn't see Lucy stiffen and turn fear-drenched eyes on Shayne, or note Shayne form the words with his lips: "Recognize the name, but take it slow."

Gentry said, "Thanks."

"I know that name, Chief Gentry," she began faintly. "New Orleans made me think of it. Arlene Bristow's brother. She worked with me before I met Michael. I met Jack once. Years ago."

Chief Gentry was all attention. "That must explain it. Does she know your present address?"

"Arlene? Oh yes. We correspond every few months. I suppose she might have given it to Jack if he was coming to Miami."

"Describe him," ordered Gentry, getting out a pad and pencil.

* * *

HESITANTLY, Lucy described Jack Bristow, and at Gentry's insistence gave him Arlene Bristow's New Orleans address.

Rourke came lounging in from the bedroom with his hands thrust deep in his pockets and a peculiar glitter in his deepset eyes, just as Gentry finished getting all the information he could from Lucy, and got to his feet, saying:

"The man must have come here hoping you'd hide him out and help him on account of his sister. You being here must have scared him away, Mike. Too bad you couldn't have been a little later and walked in on him. I'll phone this in to headquarters and have them check with Miss Bristow in New Orleans." He turned toward the telephone with pad and pencil in his hands, but Timothy Rourke forestalled him swiftly by leaping forward and grabbing the useless handset, putting one foot on the trailing cord to hide it from Gentry's eyes, and beginning to dial feverishly:

He said "Gimme rewrite," into the dead phone, and Gentry nodded sourly and lumbered to the door.
